Short Bio

Eileen Maltés is a Legal Advisor at IntLaw LLP. She graduated with honors from Universidad Argentina de la Empresa and is an attorney admitted to practice in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Her professional and academic interests include public and private international law, and international dispute resolution.

Eileen has experience in contentious commercial proceedings involving complex factual and legal issues, including court litigation, the coordination of procedural strategy, the drafting of written pleadings, and participation in settlement discussions and negotiation processes.

At IntLaw LLP, Eileen contributes across the firm's international law practice. Her work includes supervising the preparation of written submissions on behalf of States in international and regional proceedings, providing legal analysis and strategic advice, and supporting case strategy. Eileen also contributes to the design and delivery of capacity-building workshops and other IntLaw LLP's initiatives. Furthermore, Eileen is involved in IntLaw LLP's Greatest Hits & Hidden Gems of International Law research project and plays an active role in the coordination and development of the IntLaw Investment Arbitration Moot.
